DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 1(a-c) and Figure 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The following is a quotation of 37 CFR 1.71(a):

(a) The specification must include a written description of the invention or discovery and of the manner and process of making and using the same, and is required to be in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art or science to which the invention or discovery appertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same.

The specification is objected to under 37 CFR 1.71 (a) because the specification fails to clearly disclose the invention. The body of the specification teaches prior art filtering devices in Figs 1(a-c) and Fig. 2, but fails to disclose the instantly claimed capture device and stripping means incorporated into those prior art filter devices. Furthermore, Fig. 3 does disclose a capture device and stripping means located in what appears to be part of a filter device; however, the specification fails to teach what the filter device is as well as how that filter device with the capture device and stripping means is incorporated into the prior art filtering devices shown in Figs 1(a-c) and Fig. 2. Also, the elements of Fig. 3 is only described in the Abstract and are not described in the Detailed Description.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 USC 112, 1st paragraph for the reasons given above in the objections under 37 CFR 1.71.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 1-8; the recitation in claim 1 of "characterized" would normally be interpreted as meaning "comprising"; however, since "with" is already recited in this claim, it is vague and indefinite as to what is meant by "characterized". Furthermore, it is unclear as to whether a Jepson type format is intended. (see C.F.R 1.75(e))

Regarding claim 1; the recitation of "Filter element especially for use in backflush devices" is vague and indefinite as to whether the filter element must be used in backflush devices or not. Furthermore, the recitation of "which remove magnetizable, especially ferritic portions" is vague and indefinite as to whether the portions removed must be ferritic portions.

Regarding claim 2: the recitations of "the respective rod-like magnet (64)" and "the longitudinal axis" both lack antecedent basis.

Regarding claim 3; the recitation of "the respective electromagnet" lacks antecedent basis.

Regarding claim 4; the recitations of "the structural length (L)" and "the largest existing pass cross section (D)" both lack antecedent basis.

Regarding claim 6; the recitations of "that half of the filtration part at which the fluid enters" and "the greatest passage cross section (D)" both lack antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beelitz et al. who discloses a magnetic separator (Fig.1) comprising: an outer pipe (1); a cylindrical rod (5) is inside the outer pipe (1); a magnetic double rod consisting of two individual rods (6, 6a) is inside the cylindrical rod (5), the individual rods (6, 6a) are joined together by spacer elements (7) and are displaceable within the cylindrical pipe by means of piston rings; and conical stopper rings (8, 9) (i.e. stripping rings) are arranged on the cylindrical pipe (5). See especially column 1, line 63 to column 3, line 20.
